Oldcastle Precast Croydon Giving Back to the Community

CROYDON, Pa. (November 2017) — In conjunction with contributions provided to community programs throughout the year, Oldcastle Precast Croydon lent a helping hand to a younger crowd close to home with their “New Kicks for Kids” program.

Oldcastle Precast Plant Manager Allen Reed and Office Supervisor Debra MacMath teamed up with the faculty at Keystone Elementary in Croydon, Pa. to bring a little light into the lives of students who are less unfortunate. 15 brand new pairs of shoes were donated to the school. Accepting the donation was Keystone Elementary Principal George Ciarrocchi and School Nurse Lynn Thompson. “What a great thing to do for our students in need!”.

In addition, Oldcastle Precast Croydon donated ten turkeys and forty $25 Walmart gift cards to Keystone Elementary so the children and their families could have a happy holiday.

“With the holidays and cold weather vastly approaching, we must always remember there are children that don’t have what they desperately need,” stated Debra MacMath Office Supervisor at Oldcastle Precast Croydon.

“We have found a great partner in the local, 1,500 student elementary school. The school staff knows “how and when” to help the families in need and Oldcastle Precast has allowed us the means to help those less fortunate,” said Allen Reed Croydon Plant Manager.
